

Sunday, August 8, 2010

What We REALLY Did On Our Summer Break

Company: KineticArchitecture
Venue: The Rover SOHO
Location: New York, NY

► Share | Print | Download

Esteemed photographer Alan Kolc and Burlesque & Butoh™'s love-child: choreographer Rob Davidson, engaged in a series of photo shoots in which new material was performed nude for the camera to explore the concept of vulnerability and identity. We have one more and you are invited. What We REALLY Did On Our Summer Break is an invitation to watch the final photo shoot in this series. Enjoy wine, cheese and legos! Dance is a social art form so you have to build your own lego creation. Best creation gets an original photo by Mr. Kolc! Raw human movement drawn through the gaze of the photographer's lens is your invitation to experience authentic process. The dancers are nude, not for shock or eroticism and yet not to deny such impulses. Reservations/Tickets: $30.00 Includes seats to private photo shoot performance, complimentary snacks & legos! Cash bar with beer & wine. www.kineticarchitecture.org/REALLY.html

KineticArchitecture
41 Wooster Street Second Floor
New York, NY, 10013
646-808-9080
<http://www.theroversoho.com>

Schedule
August 8, 2010: 7:00pm

< back

previous listing • next listing