measure is the missing part of a dance work made in three parts that explores movement blindfolded, its possibilities and meanings. While exploring different situations wearing or not a blindfold, performers play a board game of actions over the platform of a dance piece. "To make a blindfold, measure the size of your head" is a sort of puzzle where the pieces can be arranged in a different way each time according to certain rules of execution.

Choreography: Carmen Caceres in collaboration with the performers

Performance: Anthony Rosado, Carmen Caceres, Paige Brigante, Roma Koolen, & Samsam Yung

Original Music: Juan Pablo Rosado & Juan Sebastián Vasallo
