(FAQ after letter)

Dear Dance Community,

As we near the second anniversary of COVID-19's arrival in NYC and the notable collective shift of more permanently reopening, Dance/NYC remains committed to serving you, our beloved dance community. While the effects of the pandemic are ongoing across the arts and cultural sector and will require continued and intentional care, we welcome the arrival of a new season where we have the opportunity to reimagine our future together.

To commemorate this season, we are proud to kick off the Dance/NYC 2022 Symposium: Life Cycles, Livelihoods, Legacies, a three-day virtual gathering led by the Dance/NYC Programs Team, in collaboration with guest curators George Emilio Sanchez and x, as well as the Symposium Programming Committee. Comprised of 20+ sessions gathering over 130+ speakers, this year's event is an amalgamation of reflections from dance workers and what they need to make dance with dignity while responding to the realities of a changing world. We hope you will join us tonight for the opening keynote address Art-Making and Humanity: Interrogating Attitudes on Culture, Race and Politics Across Decades, at 6:00 p.m. EST via YouTube or through the Whova platform (for ticket holders only). We are very excited to share this special time with you online. You can learn more about the programming and features of this year's Symposium by visiting Dance.NYC/DanceSymp.

In our previous State of the Organization Address released in the Winter of 2021, we shared our desire as an organization and collective of workers to dive deeply, engaging in a spirit of inquiry while returning to more intimate and interdependent community relationships. To honor this intention, over the past three months we've focused our efforts on establishing stronger internal systems, completing key grantmaking initiatives initiated in 2021, and continuing to build strong legislative relationships to better advocate for the dance sector. Some highlights include:

- With thanks to the Laurie M. Tisch Illumination Fund launching a Staff Wellness Program to provide mental health resources and coaching to the Dance/NYC team including individual and group coaching to supplement the demands of increased social justice work and free financial coaching via TrustPlus, which allows staff to budget, manage debt, and prepare for their financial futures;
- Welcoming new staff members and promoting existing employees to expand capacity as we continue to meet the sector's pressing needs. We invite you to learn about our team by visiting their bios on our website;
- Continuing to advocate for dance workers by signing on to eight legislative letters, offering four testimonies to government bodies, and ensuring the dance sector is up to date on shifting COVID-19 mandates through the Reopening Dance in NYC toolkit; and
- With the support of a coalition of 9 philanthropic partners, distributing another round of relief support to 150 dance making organizations to support their reopening efforts, and launching a new Coronavirus Dance Relief Fund: New York State Edition in partnership with NYSCA, to deliver much needed financial support to individual dance makers and organizations across New York State.

As we look to the rest of 2022, we have three main goals as an organization:

- First to launch a new initiative focused on economic justice for the dance sector, whose anchor activity is to hear from you;
- Second, to begin a strategic planning period in order to reflect on our work as an organization and prepare for the years ahead; and
- Last but certainly not least, rest.

So what does that mean for you and the services we offer?

From today through March 19, 2022, the entire Dance/NYC team will focus our efforts on producing the 2022 Symposium. During this time, all other Dance/NYC programs, communications, and/or events will be on pause.

Directly following the Symposium, the Dance/NYC offices will be closed from Sunday, March 20, 2022 through Sunday, March 27, 2022 for spring break. Upon our return, we will focus on internal intention setting from Monday, March 28, 2022 through Sunday, April 3, 2022. During this period, our office will be closed for public-facing programs. To help you continue to access important resources, you can find the answers to your most frequently asked questions here, including details on where you can get timely information about the field while we are away.

We will resume our outward facing services to the field and all communications with you on Monday, April 4, 2022. Upon our return, we invite you to join us for our upcoming Field-Wide Call on Thursday, April 14 at 4:00 p.m. Over the weeks that follow, you can expect to learn more about our new initiative and ways you can share with us your needs and vision for the future. Visit Dance.NYC for upcoming event announcements and registration information.

If you have any questions about what we are up to, how we are honoring our commitments to you, or recommendations for how we can do better, please feel free to contact us. Our emails are publicly available on Dance.NYC

Thank you for trusting us to serve you and for all you do to ensure that dance can thrive here in NYC. See you at #DanceSymp!

With Much Appreciation,

The Dance/NYC Team
