Fabled Narcissism is a multidisciplinary art show by creative directors and producers Haley Morgan Miller and Ragin Smith.

Art that lives in, on, and beyond the physical body will be featured in performances, exhibitions, and interactive experiences.

This is an evening of rendering a complete image from seemingly unacquainted stories.

Fabled Narcissism gathers and supports over 20 emerging artists, across a variety of art forms and practices.

This cutting-edge event melds movement, theater, dance, painting, drawing, sculpture, sound, photography, textiles, media art, video art, immersive experiences, and audience participation into an evening full of mysticism and fantasy bordering both dystopian and utopian narratives.
