at Gelsey Kirkland Arts Center

curated & hosted by Raja Feather Kelly and the feather theory

February 5-6, 2016

RAJA FEATHER KELLY AND BROOKLYN DANCE CLUB present the World Premiere of LYRICAL DANCES FOR A LOST GENERATION at Gelsey Kirkland Arts Center, 29 Jay Street, Brooklyn, NY, from February 5-6, 2016. Performances: Friday and Saturday at 7:30pm. Tickets are $20 for general seating and are available at <http://lostgeneration.brownpapertickets.com/>. The show runs 90 minutes.

A roulette of genuine dance numbers to popular music. Curated by director, dancer, choreographer and Warhol-fanatic Raja Feather Kelly, 13 choreographers hit the stage with no concept, no media, and no lengthy psycho-babble bullshit. Lights go up, music goes on, and they dance. They dance their hearts out- embracing what they call the 'J.O.D' (Joy of Dance). It's a show that promises to promise hope for dance and dance lovers. LYRICAL DANCES FOR A LOST GENERATION is the 2-sided mix-tape in response to the most frequently thought of question for choreographers in the age of Obama: Yeah, but can they dance? YES WE CAN!

LYRICAL DANCES FOR A LOST GENERATION was created while listening to Carly Rae Jepsen's "E-MO-TION" album in the kitchen of Effy Flack. It was a dream that is now a reality. LYRICAL DANCES FOR A LOST GENERATION features choreography by: Nicole Wolcott, Cori Olinghouse, Gierre J Godley/Project 44, Lisa Fagan Dance Problems, Larissa Velez-Jackson, Melissa Toogood, Jordan Isadore and Edward Sturgis, B.S. Movement, Dante Brown, Colleen Thomas, Cameron McKinney/Kizuna Dance, Effy Falck and Mel Gallo, and Mersiha Mesihovic/Circuit Debris

the feath3r theory is A New York-Based Company That Regurgitates Pop-Culture By Distilling Current Phenomena Into Works Of Radical And Surreal Dance Theater. Its Artistic Philosophy Is Built Upon The Principle Of Understanding Dance As A Visual Art Form, In Which The Aesthetics And Ethics Of Each Work Play An Equally Important Part. Using Movement/ Dance, Performance, Theater, Art And Media, Tf3T Amplifies The "Everyday" Into Virtuoso And Surreal Worlds Where The Unlikely Comes Together And The Unexpected Breaks Away. The Goal Is To Achieve A New Synthesis - A Performance-Centered Environment For Audiences To Experience And Experiment In. Founded By Raja Feather Kelly In 2009, The Ensemble Consists Of An Alterable Ensemble Of Dancers/Performers And A Group Of Close Collaborators, Contributing To The Visual And Musical Content Of Each Work.
