ARTWARD BOUND 2010

DEADLINE: Friday, May 14, 5pm (received in office)

The Field's Artward Bound program is a free residency program that provides individual artists the opportunity to spend 10 days with a group of other artists in a beautiful, rural setting. Artward Bound gives artists the chance to:

- Create new work and deepen one's creative process
- Receive peer feedback on developing work in a supportive environment
- Focus on personal career development through group brainstorming and strategizing.
- Enjoy a sense of community by connecting with peers.

Artward Bound is a structured group experience that allows for individual creative exploration and experimentation. The success of Artward Bound relies on each participant's enthusiasm to exchange feedback, information, and ideas. Artists often find that the time allotted for focused group discussion, as well as the quality of the interaction with fellow artists, are a catalyst for individual development.
