AUDITION

Seattle based Dance Company
Zoe|Juniper

will be holding NYC auditions* for interested dancers Monday October 4th 2010
from 4:00pm- 8:00 pm

Zoe|Juniper is looking for dancers who are interested in their project in creation A Crack in Everything slated to premiere late Spring 2011. Having begun their collaboration on 2004, Scofield and Shuey create work that is known as 'refined and raging', 'explosive and vulnerable', and 'rigorous, beautiful and daemonic'. Behind A Crack in Everything is a challenging approach to understanding and relating to permeability, containment, aggression and catharsis visually and physically. A Crack in Everything presents dance performance, video projection and installation in an environment that shifts limits, and retorts as if itself were a mobile organism.

Interested dancers should email info.zoeandjuniper@me.com with picture and bio to RSVP for the audition.
Callbacks will take place Tuesday, October 5th, 2010 from 4:00pm- 7:00pm
