

Monday, March 21, 2011

Dancers Wanted for Feature Film

phil@hominidfilms.com

► Share | Print | Download

<meta charset="utf-8" />On the eve of Halloween in NYC, a lonely, anxiety-ridden man looking for love with delusions of grandeur and a serious obsession with Michael Jackson decides to commemorate his hero, and finds himself, through the art of imitation.

Looking for dancers for a key scene in a feature film. The scene involves a dream sequence that is Michael Jackson inspired. 3-5 minute running time with some choreography already worked out. The style is mime movements with a hip-hop edge. No pay, but credit, copy, and meals will be provided.

phil@hominidfilms.com

< back

previous listing • next listing