Susan Marshall & Co. seeks dancers and choreographers to be part of our annual summer choreographic institute, SUMAC (Systems for Understanding Movement & Choreography), June 27-July 2, 2011 hosted by Barnard College in New York City. Over six days, select dancers and choreographers will learn about the collaborative choreographic practices of Susan Marshall & Co. and explore their own methods in a supportive environment of their peers, with the ultimate goal of gaining a better understanding of their own creative process. For Information & Application: www.susanmarshallandcompany.org. Deadline: April 10 (Extended).
