

Friday, July 8, 2011

Dance Dancing Dance Company Company Class!

Questions/RSVP to: DanceDancingDanceCompany@gmail.com

► Share | Print | Download

THE DANCE DANCING DANCE COMPANY COMPANY CLASS: an extreme dance class and lowbrow fitness experience hosted by Ani Taj Niemann and Sam Pinkleton

The Dance Dancing Dance Company Company Class is an extreme dance class that fuses elements of technical dance, endurance practices and theatrical tomfoolery. Emphasizing the importance of Dancing How You Want To Dance To Music You Want To Dance To, the class is comprised of a series of high-energy exercises and choreographed sequences, building towards a repertory of adaptable, populist, and "fun" dances over the course of the summer. Drawing upon gangster rap, Brazilian parade dances, hookers, recreational dancing, and The American Musical Theatre, the class places equal value on the athletic and the ridiculous. Sweating, momentary panic, and full-body gyration are guaranteed.

The repertory of dances created in this class will be performed live at a variety of events beginning in late summer. Performance opportunities will be available to anyone who has attended the class when such events arise!

$10 suggested donation. If paying is a deal-breaker for attending the class, come anyway and buy us a beer in 5 years when you're famous. And space is limited! RSVP at DanceDancingDanceCompany@gmail.com

Details:

- Thursday, July 14th, 8:30-10pm,
- 440 Studios, 440 Lafayette St, NY, NY 10003. 6 train to Astor place, N/R train to 8th St and Broadway. Studio 3G.

Questions/RSVP to: DanceDancingDanceCompany@gmail.com

< back

previous listing • next listing