Looking for performers who can move well for fun, surreal music video for indie band shooting in the city in mid-October.

All performers will be "featured" in closeups as well as visible in the entire video. You will be doing one repetitive movement in character over and over again, Some "characters" we need to fill are homeless man, guy in bathtub, pretty french girl, girl reading a book, ballerina practicing, etc.

Should be tons of fun, you'll be working with a very talented and professional creative team, and will be given really beautiful footage for your reel.

Food will be provided.

Please send headshot/photos and a brief bio.
