white road Dance Media, a Brooklyn-based contemporary dance company, is seeking an intern for Spring/Summer 2012. We've been around for about ten years and you can read more about the company here.

Intern responsibilities will include: assisting the director, working on various PR campaigns within social media platforms, attending rehearsals when needed, and working closely with the company during performances. A perfect opportunity for someone to learn about how small companies and choreographers work.

Receive college credit and small weekly stipend during our Spring performance, March 22-25.
