THE BROADWAY DANCE LAB is a choreographic workshop founded by Broadway choreographer, Josh Prince. This lab will employ dancers of all backgrounds to create new stand-alone works in the Broadway style. Our aim is to promote the use of dance as an integral part of musical theater storytelling. THE BROADWAY DANCE LAB is a sponsored project of FRACTURED ATLAS.

Josh Prince (founder) has choreographed the Broadway, Equity National Tour, and West End productions of SHREK, THE MUSICAL. Also: Off-Broadway (THE KID), Carnegie Hall (JERRY SPRINGER OPERA), Lincoln Center (CAMELOT, w/NY Philharmonic – televised on PBS), The Kennedy Center (SPRING GALA with Liza Minelli), Town Hall (BROADWAY BY THE YEAR), Brooklyn Academy of Music/The Old Vic Theater, London (THE BRIDGE PROJECT 2009/2010), and Royal Albert Hall, London (SINGING IN THE RAIN), among others.
