NYC-based indie band is looking for choreographer/dancers for upcoming music video. We're looking for classically trained dancer with modern sensibility with strong expressiveness (think about Martha Graham's Lamentation).

Even though it's an unpaid gig, this will be a great opportunity to develop an online show case reel and explore your creativity.

One day shooting on Feb during weekend, details of schedule and production will be discussed later.

Send us resume and video reel of your performance if available. Looking forward hearing from you!
