Omar Rahim is choreographing a special project for electronic composer Satya Hinduja on September 11, 2013. Featuring James Turel-inspired lighting and Pina Bausch-esque choreography, the work will depict the struggle to find serenity in a world full of distraction. Auditions will take place during the afternoon of September 4th in downtown Manhattan. Afternoon rehearsals will take place on September 6, 7 and 9 in downtown Manhattan. There will be one dress rehearsal on the night of Sept 10 and the all-day shoot will take place from noon onwards in Brooklyn on September 11. Send pictures and resumes to sunrisemusicvideo@gmail.com for consideration. There will be a small performance stipend.
