

Tuesday, September 24, 2013

EECOP Dance Intersection

Erica Essner essner@eecop.org

► Share | Print | Download

Looking for dancers male/female to begin a new work which will premiere in the spring 2014 as part of a Dance intersection series. Paid positions.

EECOP is interested in dancers with strong technique, improvisational, partnering, skills and dancers who enjoy generating original material. Must available days and some Saturdays.
Audition by appointment.

Please send resume and online video if available.

Dance Intersection

The mission of the Dance Intersection is to engage audiences in the creative process both as a way to build community and as means to shape and inform the work. A number of interaction opportunities will be built into the process of creation around each new work, ranging from open rehearsals to issue forums and design inspiration forums. Dance Intersection seeks to create a forum that is an integral point where audiences can impact the artistic work in a constructive and powerful way. The company in turn has the opportunity to actively engage with audiences in a meaningful way, which provides a sense of intimacy as audience and artist become familiar with the structure.

Erica Essner essner@eecop.org

< back

previous listing • next listing