I am looking for a male dancer with a background in modern dance and/or ballet with strong partnering skills. Prior performance experience preferred. This is my first time choreographing and am looking to build work to perform in NYC (for starters). I have been professionally performing for over 7 years in places such as Philadelphia, Boston, NYC, and Tokyo. I'm excited to start a new chapter and to try something new.

This is a new project that will explore the idea that every relationship/partnership develops its' own language and how that language is influenced by both parties. Whether it is between friends or family every relationship has its' own inside sayings, knowing looks, and secret understandings. The concept of this piece is based on finding beauty in misery and how along the way two people lost their common language with each other. For more information please check out my website www.michelleduvall.com.

There will only be 1 rehearsal a week on Sundays with a maximum of 2 hours, the day will be worked out once someone is selected. This piece will be performed on March 22, 2014.

Please send a headshot, resume, and video (if you have it) to duvallmichelle86@gmail.com. Include dates that you are free to come in for an audition and I will schedule times accordingly. All performances are paid. If you have any questions please don't hesitate to ask. Thank you!
