We are a boutique Pilates studio in Soho and we're looking for a Pilates teacher who would like to use our studio for private and/or duet sessions a couple of hours a month.

Our studio is very luxurious and conveniently located near several subway stops. It has a reformer/tower, spring board, small props like magic circles, foam rollers, all kinds of small balls, physio balls, mats, blankets, small weights etc.

We're flexible with days and times, but we require a minimum of 5 hours per month. The rent is $35 per hour.

Nobody else will use the studio during your private/duet classes. So, you don't have to share the studio with other instructors during your reserved times.

If you're interested, please contact us via e-mail.
