Hello Glitterati!

Casting Call

Back at Ya! Burlesque: (The burlesque show that loves you as much as you love it) is looking for a few acts to round out our maiden voyage at Villain in Williamsburg on September 22nd. To start our journey with GOOD KARMA, our first show is a benefit for Stand Tall International (www.standtallinternational.org) Stand Tall International arranges and funds lifesaving spinal surgeries for children of east Africa so that they are able to walk, run, twist, bend, and do all the things that backs do!

We are looking for burlesque and boylesque performers interested in donating their backsides (and boobies!) for a good cause. Because this is for a children's charity, we are looking for acts that are upbeat, energetic, and fun!!! Back at Ya! Burlesque is committed to curating a diverse cast of performers. Performers of all genders, races, ethnicities, and abilities are encouraged to submit acts. Ticket sales will be donated to Stand Tall International. A photographer will be on site to capture stills from your act, hospitality will be provided, and tips will be collected for performers.

For more information or to submit an act, email immodestyrose@gmail.com. We look forward to having you!

Performers that are able to donate an act for this special event will be given priority for future non-donation based show

XOXO
