Monday, August 1, 2016

Male black dancer for contemporary Music video choreography.

Company: MHDAS
Compensation: DOE

We are looking for an emerging choreographer for a contemporary dance video, the video focuses on a blind black man dancing on a new york rooftop.

We are looking for choreographer with a passion for movement and expression, someone who is able to dance and act, conveying a range of emotions. This will be a 3-4 minute dance shot in two locations over a period of two days.

You need to have past experience choreographing emotional dance pieces.

This is a low budget music video for an independant record label, even though it is low budget there will be reasonable compensation.

Send us your Headshots, resumes and any recent dance films or live recordings of dance pieces.

MHDAS

For more information:
Michael
michael@mhdas.com