xyz dance series is an opportunity for choreographers to meet new dancers, create a piece in a week and get instant feedback from experts on a theme!

One week before the performance, choreographers and dancers are paired together at random. Each xyz has a theme and a challenge surrounding that theme. The brand new dances are shared in a public performance at The Tank with a guest speaker. The guest speaker is a specialist or expert in the field relating to the theme. Their feedback is designed not only to help the choreographer hear directly about their piece but also to allow the audience into the creative process.
