Sam's workshops are focused on creation and performance. Through improvisation we will discover contrasting textures and emotions in the body, while understanding how these can be used to create struggle, dynamic and character for our audiences.

Sam trained at the London Contemporary Dance School obtaining BA (2009) and MA (2015) degrees in performance & choreography. As a performer Sam has worked with some of the leading dance and theatre companies including Jasmin Vardimon Company, Ultima Vez (Monkey Sandwich R&D) and most recently spent 5 years as a senior member of Hofesh Shechter company. Other projects include working with Antony Gormley & Hofesh Shechter on the project 'survivor' (Barbican, 2012) and critically acclaimed opera Orpheus Et Eurydice (Royal Opera House, 2015) amongst others. He has also appeared in numerous music videos and film shorts as an actor as well as a dancer. Choreographically Sam works under the completed commissions in Canada and Spain.
