Amanda + James is holding an audition for dancers for a workshop of it's new techno opera, LazerEyes. We are looking for performers with strong technique and experience with improvisation and theater - no singing required. The process will be collaborative as the show is still being developed and will involve working with artists from different mediums. Rehearsal stipend is provided.

The audition will be held from 7-10pm on Monday October 2nd. Please submit a head shot and resume to amanda@amandaplusjames.com for location. Space is limited.

Rehearsals will be held on Mondays October 16-December 11 from 7-10pm with some rehearsals to be added the week before workshop performance December 15 and 16. Additional workshops and performances will be held in the Spring with a final performance date tentatively scheduled for Fall 2018.

To get a sense of Amanda + James's previous work please visit www.amandaplusjames.com or for LazerEyes itself <http://amandaplusjames.com/project/lazereyes/>
