

Friday, October 20, 2017

AUDITION: 9 dark skinned male performers needed for Performa Project by artist Nicholas Hlobo

Company: Performa

Location: New York, NY

Compensation: Fixed fee for 2 performance days and 1 rehearsal

► Share | Print | Download

For the Performa 17 Biennial, South African visual artist Nicholas Hlobo will present a performance installation that gets activated by 9 male African / African American performers, four of them sitting on 7' high chairs.

Looking for 9 males dark-skinned, max height 5.9 ft, max weight 176 lb, 30-32 waist. Not afraid of heights, able to sit still for upwards of 3 hours.

Audition information: by invitation only. If invited, we will share with you the audition details.

To apply for the audition please email your headshot, full body shot, and resume to Bob Kalas at bob@performa-arts.org

If selected, performer must be available mid November:

Rehearsal dates: November 17 (4 hour rehearsal)

Performance dates: November 18 + 19 2017

Performance Times: 10am – 12pm, 2pm – 4pm, daily commitment 9am – 5pm

Compensation: Fixed fee for 2 performance days and 1 rehearsal

Please only apply if you are able to commit to the listed rehearsal and performance schedule.

About Nicholas Hlobo

Hlobo (b. 1975, Cape Town) exhibits widely, including pieces at the Venice Biennial, Biennale of Sydney, Guangzhou Triennial, and solo shows at the National Museum of Art, Architecture and Design in Oslo, Tate Modern, and Boston ICA. He was named the Standard Bank Young Artist for Visual Art 2009, and the Rolex Visual Arts Protégé for 2010/11, working with Anish Kapoor as his mentor and holds a Bachelor of Technology from Technikon Witwatersrand.

Performa
100 West 23rd Street, Floor 5
New York, NY, 10011
212-366-5700
www.performa-arts.org

For more information:
Bob Kalas
bob@performa-arts.org

< back

previous listing • next listing