The Recognizing Women Project would like to invite you into our rehearsals and creative discussions as we investigate the contributions to adolescent female self-objectification and the contemporary rites of passage between mother and daughter.

You will be observing our usual rehearsal process and invited to participate in our discussions (to your level of comfort). It is very important to the team at nathantrice/RITUALS that our art is a direct reflection of the community we are serving, so we want to involve you in our creative process, and get your insight into the prompts that we are working on. The Recognizing Women Project aims to spark activist conversation around womens concerns - join us and be a part of the movement!

Open rehearsals begin Sunday, January 14th, and run through February 26th. Within those dates, they are every Sunday from noon to 2pm, and every Monday from 5-7pm. You pick the date that works best for you, shoot us a quick email at campaign.nathantricerituals@gmail.com at least 48 hours in advance to let us know that you're coming and if you're bringing a friend, and then you're set! We will respond with the exact location and additional details.

For a glimpse into what you can expect, check us out on Instagram @ntrituals!

Hope to see you soon!
