Obsessions is a multimedia performance work collaboratively developed between teens and professional artists based on collected memories around the theme of obsessions. This project will begin with a six week teen writing workshop followed by an interdisciplinary performance project bringing together teen and professional artists to collaborate on a devised work to be performed in Brooklyn, NY in May 2018. This project aims to explore common themes from a pivotal time in adolescence through movement, language and film.

Opportunities for teens ages 14-18 include:

1. Free 6-week teen writing workshop beginning Wednesday, February 7th
2. Free performance project where we will devise a multidisciplinary performance work based on the writing from the writing workshop and a collection of memories about obsessions.
