BITEdown Collective is a multi-media dance company founded by Aundrea Anderson in 2015 in order to further explore the integration of vast artistic mediums within a live performance setting. Since its conception, Aundrea has worked with filmmakers, composers, designers, and visual artists to further explore her movement based work. These pieces have performed in venues such as: Gibney, Spoke the Hub, Triskellion Arts, ATLAS BlackBox Theatre, Redline Art Center, and the University of Colorado- Boulder, to name a few. Her dance for camera work has been featured at international festivals including: Athens Video Dance Project, Berlin International Film Festival, Sans Souci Festival of Dance Cinema, and the America Dance Festival.
