Join The Yonis in a night of curated performance, The Yonis are a movement girl band specializing in improvised installation work, we are a fluid collective and invite female and female socialized dance artists to perform with us. Find us on instagram @the.yonis.

On Friday 31st January (Bushwick, Brooklyn) we will be opening the night with a score developed over several performances last year. The aim is to TAKE UP SPACE, MAKE NOISE and subvert expectations of the use of performance space.

If you are interested in performing as a yoni, it will only require coming to the venue early to walk through the space and go through the improvised score, please email thebandyoni@gmail.com for more information!
