We are looking for a candidate who is passionate about ballet-contemporary dance, social media, writing, and creating original content and campaigns. This role works directly with the Artistic Director and Social Media Coordinator to learn how to craft our marketing, event, and editorial calendars by drafting posts, aid in developing original content series, and engage with our community on a scheduled basis across three platforms.

This position requires a strong understanding of classical and contemporary ballet, social media channels (Instagram, Facebook, YouTube), a passion for staying up-to-date on emerging trends, strong project management and communication skills, and a desire to collaborate across departments.

This opportunity has the potential to become a permanent, ongoing, paid position to the right candidate.

- Assist in planning monthly editorial, marketing, and event calendars for social media posts across platforms
- Assist with image capture of rehearsals, performances, events, photoshoots and ad hoc content creation.
- Track and analyze social media reporting, providing thoughtful, strategic insight to our platforms and campaigns (share feedback, inform post optimizations and recipe development).
- Become an expert on Neville Dance Theatre's repertory, artists, staff, mission, and brand to offer exceptional engagement with our community across our social channels in a timely manner.
- Ensure copy is written in Neville Dance Theatre's brand voice and images meet professional standards.
- Have an exceptional understanding of classical ballet and contemporary dance technique, trends, culture, and environment to select appropriate content and use of correct terminology in content descriptions and posts.

Who you are:

- 1-2 years experience using social media platforms Instagram and Facebook
- A passion for social media and an in-depth understanding of top platforms including Google Suite (email, calendars, photos)
- Exceptional written and verbal communication skills and an eye for image selection
- Professional calibre background and experience in classical ballet and contemporary dance
- Punctual, reliable, and responsible with a professional and positive attitude
- A self starter who enjoys working in a dance and performance based environment and a willingness to travel locally
- Highly detailed and solution oriented
- Quick-learner who takes direction and feedback well
- Familiarity with Neville Dance Theatre and our works/artists are a plus!

This is a remote position. Flexible hours, generally 5-8 hours per week commitment. Requires attendance at scheduled, weekly video conference call, connection and communication through Google Suite platform, and potential usage/download of specific phone apps (iPhone preferred). Some in-person attendance may be required to company rehearsals and events as they arise.
