ABOUT THE CENTER AT WEST PARK

WHO WE ARE

The Center at West Park (CWP) is a non-profit community performing arts center based in the historic West Park Presbyterian Church, a New York City landmark. We present engaging and boundary-pushing early-career and established artists through our artist residency programs, provide affordable rental space for artists to develop their work, and steward the restoration of our historic home's landmark exterior. CWP is led by Artistic Director Zachary Tomlinson and Managing Director Natasha Katerinopoulos.

OUR DIVERSE COMMUNITY

We are building a welcoming and inclusive community that spans diverse points of view; cultural, ethnic, and socioeconomic backgrounds; national origins and immigration statuses; ages, abilities, orientations, and gender identities; and religious and spiritual affiliations (or none at all). We call the diverse members of our community into relationship through our shared commitment to creative and intellectual expression.

OUR ANTI-DISCRIMINATION HIRING & EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES

The Center at West Park is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing a working environment that is free from discrimination and discriminatory practices. Discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, creed, national origin, age, ancestry, veteran status, military service, or any other legally protected status is contrary to our principles and our policies. We practice nondiscrimination in employment, including recruitment, selection, job assignment, pay, benefits, training, transfer, promotion, and termination. We strive to include individuals from all backgrounds in our workplace and encourage people from underrepresented groups to apply for all available positions. We will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities consistent with our obligations under the law.
