Company [REDACTED] is hiring trans dancers for a long-term paid project starting in January. The creation process for "My Apocalypse" will start in January 2023 and have performances in spring 2023 with a culmination in an evening-length premier in fall 2023. Potential touring opportunities for a separate work are available in summer 2023. Collaborating dance artists are paid $30 per rehearsal, $100 for short performances and $300 for the weekend of the show's premier.

We are interested in long term collaboration with artists involved in this work, interested artists should have availability to rehearse once or twice a week in NYC from January 2023 to June 2023. Ability to communicate effectively via email or text is a must. Interested dancers should have a love for experimentation and comfort with erotic subject matter. We are not hiring white dancers at this time. Please let us know about any access needs you may have!

To apply please email companyredacted@gmail.com with a video of your dancing and a short introduction to yourself and your practice.
