Enter your dance-film for this one of a kind community event in Inwood/Washington Heights!

The Ni de Aquí, Ni de Allá: At Home Uptown outdoor dance-film festival aims to bond our community around the universal language of dance, and foster a culture of seeing, hearing and understanding one another. This powerful, storytelling event will help us to find a little bit of home among one another– uniting us like never before!

We are looking for dance-films submissions from local* professionals and students, around the theme of feeling at home with yourself, your body, and community.

Visit <https://babelmovement.org/film-festival> to learn more and apply!

Deadline July 15th

preference towards Uptown based submissions, but not required
