Seeking dance and theater performers of all trans and nonbinary identities for my new work in development: "WAITING / POINTING."

ABOUT: this physical theater/movement project is about transness, gesture, and directionality. POINTING: towards, away from, or beyond gender, and WAITING: in the words of Andrea Long Chu, "to admit that ... transsexual is not identity but desire is to admit just how much of transition takes place in the waiting rooms of wanting things." This work was originally commissioned as a site-specific piece in the WestFest: All Over Westbeth Series and is now in the second stage of development.

TO APPLY: Send a short excerpt of work 1-3 min in length along with a bio to lou.sydel@gmail.com or DM @gesturestudies on instagram. Strong improvisation and devising experience is a plus. This is an unpaid opportunity to develop collaborative ensemble work.

Applications due by September 13. Rehearsals start late September with a performance on November 19th (performers must be available that entire day for tech).

Please don't hesitate to reach out with questions :)
