Brooklyn Ballet Incubator is an immersive playground-style workshop series led by new and emerging choreographers with an emphasis on cross-disciplinary collaboration.

The program invites choreographers of diverse dance styles and backgrounds to create with Brooklyn Ballet artists and local professional dancers, building connections for future collaborations.

Celebrating its fourth year, Brooklyn Ballet welcomes three choreographers this September for two weeks of creative residencies: September 9–12 and September 15–18.

Professional and advanced-level dancers are invited to register and participate in the creative process. Dancers may drop into a single workshop, or register for a full week.
