A small, youth-focused mentorship dance company is seeking an enthusiastic and dependable after-school dance mentor/instructor to lead engaging classes for young dancers.

Candidates must:

Have experience teaching children ages 6-12, including beginners with little to no dance background.

Be able to create fun, structured, and developmentally appropriate classes in Jazz/Contemporary and Hip Hop.

Be comfortable choreographing routines for showcases and special performances.

Demonstrate professionalism, reliability, consistency, and flexibility.

Be available weekday afternoons 3:00-5:00 PM on Tuesdays and Thursdays (potential for additional days)

There is also opportunity for substitute assignments. If you are interested in subbing, please specify this in your interest letter.

POC are strongly encouraged to apply.

After-school classes take place on the Upper West Side of Manhattan. Additional details will be discussed with candidates selected for an interview.
