HERE is currently accepting applications to our Sublet Series: Co-op – this hybrid performance series offers bold artists space for up to one week for 2-3 technical rehearsals and 3-5 performances in our 69 seat Dorothy B Williams theatre in the weeks of August 6th- September 2nd.

We are especially interested in receiving dance applications.

If interested in a longer rental, please email us at programming@here.org to discuss.

HERE provides space, equipment, box office services, and technical support. HERE will include the series on our website and in a weekly e-blast to our 19,000 subscribers.

Artists are responsible for production expenses, artist fees, marketing and any additional staff required for their show. Due to programming restrictions, the show should be no longer than 75 minutes.

Tickets are $15. For each performance, the first 20 tickets are a guarantee to HERE, followed by a 50% / 50% split of that evening's box office between HERE and Artist.

Applications are due at noon on Friday, June 1st, 2018. Decisions will be announced on Wednesday, June 6th.

Questions about the Series can be directed to programming@here.org
