Multidisciplinary artist ayo ohs premieres A Minor Relief, a site-specific performance weaving together original music, dance, and theater. Staged across multiple spaces in Culture Lab, the piece unfolds as a live staging of ayo's debut album (released October 1), created with musician Treya Lam. Audiences move with the performance — from an intimate lobby concert to a culminating proscenium finale. Playful and reflective, A Minor Relief asks how we find relief in times of grief, justice-seeking, and personal transformation.
