Blue Morph Collective is excited to be holding our self-produced showing for Fall 2019. Join us for an intimate sharing of stories and glimpses of our individual life experiences displayed through dance, live music, theater, and visual art. This is a free event, but please RSVP using the link. In order to continue having free performances for the public we are encouraging donations. Thank you for your support and can't wait to see you there!

This event is a part of Gibney's POP: Open Rehearsals, a program supporting curated rental opportunities for the dance community.
