Presented by The Music Hall & Ballet des Amériques

Established in 2011, Ballet des Amériques - the "Ballet of the Americas" - is a company of classically trained dancers performing works of French-American director and choreographer Carole Alexis. Drawing on multifarious cultural traditions, these works transcend the established categories of classical, modern and contemporary dance in surprising and captivating ways. Attracting ballet aficionados and fans of modern and other dance forms alike, the company is poised to enchant ever-growing audiences.

The performance features two new works by Carole Alexis - "Of Flowers and Tears" and "Lentil Soup" - and pieces from the company's répertoire.
