Breaking Through the Generational Curse

choreographed by Maiya Redding

Synopsis: the work "Breaking Through the Generational Curse" explores family dynamics. The work shows a family evolving through a long journey together discovering new relationships between each other and with themselves. It explores one's struggle with breaking bad cycles that are passed down from generation to generation. Within the relationships they express jealousy, loneliness, regret, forgiveness, support, and love.

Music: "Meeting along the edge" and "Channel and winds" by Philipp Glass and Ravi Shankar

Clytemnestra

(work in progress, 15 minutes)

choreographed by Alessandra Corona in collaboration with guest choreographer Gianni Santucci

Synopsis: The tragedy of Clytemnestra
 Original score by: Thomas Lentakis
 "Proseccio" with co-composer Gary Mosca

Labyrinth

choreographed by Alessandra Corona & Company

Synopsis: in Labyrinth, Artistic Director Alessandra Corona explores the theme of human struggle to come to terms with fate. Through innovative choreography, music and various media, ACPW tells the story of two lovers trapped within a psychic labyrinth of their own creation, ignorant of their destiny and powerless to change their fate except through love.

Original score by: Thomas Lentakis
