"Buoyancy" the latest short film from award winning filmmaker Mozell Miley-Bailey will screen at the Inwood Film Festival March 3 @7pm. The film is about a dancer who makes it into a renowned dance company only to have her chance suddenly taken away while a drummer, who's living on the streets, struggles to keep his music alive. Music and motion and the weight of desires and dreams become exerted by forces unbeknownst and around them that unravel in a New York moment. The short film stars dancers/actors Camille Shandle, Anna Vlasova, Jessica Ho, Caitlin Johnson, Cassie Mills, Kayla Schetter and features choreography by dancers/actors Diana Bologna and Ronnie Davidson.
