A celebratory culmination of dance, Cultivated Chaos is a performance to benefit Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center

Choreographed by Julia Kane, a beneficiary of the world renowned care provided by MSKCC, this show will celebrate her transition from cancer patient to choreographer.

Cultivated Chaos exemplifies the juxtaposition that comes with confronting, challenging, and conquering a cancer diagnosis. The hectic uncertainty of a cancer diagnosis inspired the underlying theme of the show, that although not everything turns out as expected, the end result is gratifying nonetheless.

Cultivated Chaos is graciously being presented and funded by PMT House of Dance. A portion of the show's proceeds will benefit Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, along with additional donation opportunities to support the foundation.
