About The Teacher

Joshua "Hazmat" Ulep, born and raised in Hawaii began dancing at 8 years old for the company he now owns today. At age 16 he moved to New York taking up a scholarship to Steps on Broadway that he had received at a competition. Since then, Hazmat has appeared on numerous TV shows like PBS' "The Electric Company", Disney Channels "Shake It Up" The Ellen DeGeneres Show, Americas Best Dance Crew, and Americas Got Talent, just to name a few. Now owning a dance studio (Hypersquad 4 Life), Hazmat has lead his teams Academy of Hype, Bandits, and Rascals to multiple victories and awards at Hip Hop International and World of Dance. You also may have seen some of his recent work as he was a choreographer for The Lab, on NBCs World of dance season 1 and Rascals of season 2. Currently Hazmat has been working with numerous collegiate dance teams bringing most teams to National and World titles, with years back to back. Some of these teams include University of Cincinnati, University of Louisville, Grand Valley State University, Davenport University, University of Delaware and many others.
