

January 27 - February 3, 2023

Dance Symposium: Dance and Ecology, A Symposium for Climate Action

Company: NYPL

Venue: New York Public Library for the Performing Arts

Location: NYC, NY

► Share | Print | Download

Next Wave Festival, Brooklyn Academy of Music, 1991. Photograph

This event will take place in person at the Library for the Performing Arts.

Each year, the Jerome Robbins Dance Division oversees the Dance Research Fellowship, an annual cohort of dance scholars and artists invited to research a specific aspect of dance. This year, fellows focused their research on the theme of dance and ecology.

Fellows Juli Brandano, Rosemary Candelario, María de los Angeles Rodríguez Jiménez, Lindsey Jones, Richard Move, and Rachna Nivas will deliver presentations in our annual symposium, culminating the work undertaken during a six-month fellowship cycle.

Can't make it in person? Sign up for the virtual livestream of this event on February 3rd

NYPL
111 Amsterdam Avenue
NYC, NY, 10023
<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/dance-symposium-dance-and-ecology-a-symposium-for-climate-action-tickets-477529632987>

Schedule
January 27, 2023: 10:00am
February 3, 2023: 10:00am

< back

previous listing • next listing