

Friday, December 11, 2020 - Sunday, January 24, 2021

Danger: Everyday Objects

Company: STREB EXTREME ACTION Company

Venue: Online

Location: Brooklyn, NY

► Share | Print | Download

This winter's "home season" program showcases a body of Elizabeth Streb's work which highlights quotidian objects as extreme action hardware. Everyday objects you might see on a construction site, and that make up the building blocks of our lived environment, have long been the subject of Streb's obsessive action invention. From dirt, glass, plywood and two-by-fours, to concrete blocks, I-beams, truck straps, buckets and ladders, Streb has transformed these objects to foment complex extreme action choreography over the years. With a libretto written by Laura Flanders, DANGER: EVERYDAY OBJECTS, weaves together a poetic look at the everyday building objects we all live within.

Performance Link will be available from Friday, December 11, 2020, 12 pm - Sunday, January 24, 2021, 11:59 pm

An exclusive virtual conversation and Q&A with Elizabeth Streb moderated by Laura Flanders will be held via Zoom on Tuesday, December 15, 2020 @ 7:00 pm.

Tickets are available on a sliding scale $0-$50. $50 premium tickets includes an exclusive virtual conversation and Q&A with Elizabeth Streb, moderated by Laura Flanders on Tue, Dec 15, 7 pm.

STREB EXTREME ACTION Company
51 N 1st Street
Brooklyn, NY, 11249
7183846491
<https://givebutter.com/VirtualFallSeason>

Schedule
December 11, 2020: 8:00pm
December 15, 2020: 7:00pm
January 24, 2021: 8:00pm

< back

previous listing • next listing