Decadance Theatre, a hip-hop dance company based in Brooklyn, will present a dynamic performance, including 4, where hip-hop bumps into modern dance and both collide with Vivaldi's iconic masterwork, The Four Seasons, and The City Breathing, which includes EL-Wire light suit costumes and has been described by Andrew Boynton of The New Yorker as "A dance like a Keith Haring drawing come to life." Another piece on the program, "When the Sky Breaks" is performed to music provided by a live DJ mixing the sound.
