Dance Roulette is an interactive improv event bringing together the company dancers of ELSCO Dance and guest artists including poets, singers and musicians to collaborate instantly in front of the audience with no previous rehearsal.

Audience members spin to pick the ELSCO Dance company members that will play the game. Once the dancer is selected, a balloon will be popped to reveal the name of the guest artist that the dancer will be paired with. The dancer and artist have never performed together before. The audience member has created the piece that will be performed in that moment. Instant art. Instant inspiration.
