Take the Alexander Technique into action with the Freedom to Move 2019 conference. Movement comes in many forms and each presenter will offer their unique insights and interests into how the Alexander Technique and movement connect. The Alexander Technique is fundamental to both a dancer's development, artistry and longevity in their career. In this conference, faculty will give dancers and performing artists ideas and experiences that allow them to continue development and work with themselves, move towards achieving their goals, an understanding around injury prevention and self-care, and promote a greater sense of the whole.

No previous dance or movement necessary. Everyone is welcome!
