Over the years, HATCH has presented over 820 works in a studio environment. The series showcases developing work and allows the audience engage and interact with the artists!

HATCH Presenting Series was created in the Spring of 1997 by Jennifer Muller/The Works in response to the need in the dance field for a cost-free space for emerging choreographers to investigate new work, present works-in-progress and engage in dialogue with the audience, free from financial pressure and the scrutiny of critical response.

This program presents Saturday evening performances each year sectioned into Fall and Spring series. The emerging choreographers who participate in the HATCH Series vary in age, perspective and technique. The Works believes that each of their voices deserves a platform for mentorship and performance. The dances offered range from solo to group pieces, some accompanied by live music or actors. The series has presented over 820 choreographic works.

This is an informal, cost-free space in which to present the work of emerging and established choreographers, theater & performance artists.

The studio environment supports showcasing work in a "bare bones" state. The intimacy of the space works to an advantage, bringing the audience right into the action.

Showings will also be followed by an audience/artist discussion.

Tickets can be purchased at the door in cash for $20.
