As the Institute for the Study of Somatic Communication crafts formal, flattened hierarchal, organizational structures on multiple continents, the present directorial board is in pursuit of individuals to hold leadership positions in a variety of global locations and expertise.

Co-led by Nita Little and Leighann Kowalsky, Sessions will review the goals and methods of the ISSC and include talks on Design Thinking, Non-Hierarchical Structures, the Current State of the ISSC, and Community Care Practice in Non-Profit Organizations.

This is meant to be a sample for a longer, in-person, upcoming leadership retreat and facilitation session. Individuals interested in being part of the ISSC structurally, administratively or directorially, will find this seminar to be informative and enlightening.

The digital seminar will take place on Zoom, Saturday, January 6, 2024 from 10a-1p PST, 1p-4p EST, 5p-8p GMT
